
Relatively Speaking (RS)

The Child Welfare Education Partnership at Granite State College (CWEP) offers classes through Relatively Speaking (RS) for relative caregivers, State staff, and more.

Participating in a class hand-in-hand with the families you are working with is a win/win, helping to assist them with the challenges they may be working through.

DCYF staff are invited and encouraged to attend RS classes. Courses are FREE of charge to DCYF staff, funded through federal and state sources.

The three Relatively Speaking classes are offered online. Please visit Relatively Speaking course schedule page for a complete listing of courses, course descriptions, and to register for courses.

Course offerings below

About You

About the Child

About the Birth Parent

Each module is three (3) hours in length currently in a e-workbook format but will be online soon.